Imagine you are looking out of a window and can see something strange. Draw what you see and write it below.