

Name: Ayush Students should strike for climate change.

"People need to stop financing denial of climate change," said Al Gore. Climate change is real and it's coming for everyone who lives on Earth. Some of the world's best leaders are trying their hardest to stop climate change and are urging other world leaders to do the same. Every adult on this planet is saying that kids don't know what climate change is, but in reality we know a lot. I'm going to strike for climate change, but are you?

Climate change equals droughts and droughts mean our crops die faster. If we don't even try and stop climate, civilisation will be extinct by 2099. Droughts washout crops, pollute water supplies and are destroying our beautiful environment. Animals and plants are dying at a quicker rate, but of course we don't care even a little bit.

"Why is it so hot," asked Timmy. Seasons are getting hotter. Winter is almost as hot as Spring, but what are us humans doing about it. NOTHING! The government is getting overwhelmed because the media is crawling all over them about climate change. "The seasons aren't getting hotter and nothing can prove that they are," said Scott Morrison in a highly important press conference. How long is it going to be before the government finally feels the full force of the hotter seasons?

Almost everyone should know the biggest cause of climate change is greenhouse gasses. This is a major factor in climate change, because this is why the atmosphere is slowly cracking. If it wasn't for materials like coal and carbon dioxide it would be alot less hot and people wouldn't complain every single day.

The government doesn't care about climate change, but if we make them see what our future holds, they might help us in making sure we have a safe and bright future. You don't want to become a puddle of water, do you? The government right now is as dumb as a donkey, but we can fix that. So go out there and reassure everyone that we can have a safer and brighter future.
